MAYORAL CANDIDATE AND PARTY CAMPAIGN
COMMITMENT CONSENSUS ON THE 2018 HOT PINK PAPER

Then-candidate Kennedy Stewart, the NPA, GREENS, ONE CITY, and COPE all committed to the following policy and action recommendations proposed in Women Transforming Cities’ 2018 Hot Pink Paper Campaign. The following recommendations had clear consensus and commitment from all parties and now-elected candidates.

INDIGENOUS WOMEN AND GIRLS
☐ Include Indigenous women in candidates for Mayor, Council, School, and Park Board
☐ Ensure culturally-safe engagement policies

AFFORDABLE HOUSING
☐ Build more safe, low income, affordable housing units that are women friendly

CHILD CARE
☐ Partner with the provincial government to create new spaces and facilities

ELECTORAL REFORM
☐ No agreements

ENDING VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN
☐ Conduct a full safety audit of the City of Vancouver
☐ Allocate funding for organizations doing anti violence work
☐ Organize a city-wide, anti-violence campaign, coordinated by the Mayor’s Office and women’s anti-violence organizations
ENVIRONMENT, CLIMATE CHANGE, AND RESILIENCE

- Review the City’s Greenest City Action Plan and emergency preparedness strategies related to climate change with a gendered intersectional lens
- Enhance community engagement strategies to ensure the inclusivity of diverse women and girls

TRANSPORTATION

- Create safer transit and stations

WOMEN, WORK, AND INCOME

- Advocate for a provincial and federal anti-poverty plan

YOUNG WOMEN

- Fund programs that support the creation of women-friendly service hubs and incubators to develop skills and networks
- Create gender-specific programs to learn about, and participate in city planning, municipal elections, and other civic engagement activities

IMMIGRANT, MIGRANT, AND REFUGEE WOMEN

- Address systemic barriers present in areas such as housing and violence

INTERSECTIONALITY

- Develop a gendered intersectional framework to be applied to all City policies, programs, budgets, funding, staffing and governance
